Dinosaur Discoveries from the Frozen Continent

Antarctica today is a forbidding land of snow and ice—but dinosaurs thrived there 200 million years ago in a lush, forested environment. Opening on June 15, a new exhibition at The Field Museum follows scientists on a search for never-before-seen fossils and sheds new light on our planet's changing climate and geology.

Tom Skwerski, exhibitions operations director at the Field, will come to the library to share an insider's view of Antarctic Dinosaurs. He will show slides of fossils from four Antarctic species, including the 25-foot-long Cryolophosaurus, and discuss the tough working conditions for the team that discovered them. He also will describe how exhibit visitors can use real tools to experience how paleontologists extracted fossils from the frozen landscape.

In his 11-year tenure at the Field, Mr. Skwerski has managed over 20 exhibitions, including China's First Emperor and His Terracotta Warriors.

Sunday, June 24
2:00 p.m.

Antarctic Dinosaurs was developed by The Field Museum, Chicago in partnership with the Natural History Museum of Los Angeles County, Discovery Place, and the Natural History Museum of Utah. It will be on display in Chicago until January 6, 2019. This program is suitable for adults and for older (upper elementary-aged) children.

AUTHOR EVENT: ROBERT KURSON

Wednesday, June 6, at 7:30 p.m.

By August 1968, the American space program was in danger of failing in its two most important objectives: to land a man on the Moon by President Kennedy's end-of-decade deadline, and to triumph over the Soviets in space. With its back against the wall, NASA made an almost unimaginable leap: it would scrap its usual methodical approach and risk everything on a sudden launch, sending the first men in history to the Moon—in just four months.

Author Robert Kurson will return to the library to discuss his newest real-life thriller, Rocket Men: The Daring Odyssey of Apollo 8 and the Astronauts Who Made Man's First Journey to the Moon. His previous books include Shadow Divers, Crashing Through, and Pirate Hunters. Copies of Rocket Men will be available for purchase and signing at the event courtesy of the Book Stall.

A NEW AMERICAN DREAM FOR “BURIED CHILD”

Thursday, June 7, 7:00 p.m.

The family at the center of Sam Shepard's Buried Child grapples with a changing America in an era of rapid growth for some of the population, but not all. As we watch them fight for self-preservation, questions arise about how we can achieve success in a time when the American Dream is a moving, evolving target. How do we prepare our children for this? Matthias Doepke, an economics professor at Northwestern University, will explore how we and our families work toward a “New American Dream.” Dr. Doepke is co-author of Love, Money, & Parenting: How Economics Affects the Way We Raise Our Kids. Cosponsored with the Glencoe Historical Society and Writers Theatre.

If you want to read your work, please email the moderator, Bob Boone, in advance at ycagsc@gmail.com so he can coordinate the evening's roster. Everyone is welcome to participate by reading or just by being an appreciative audience for the many talented writers in our community.

Selected Stories of Anton Chekhov

Translated by RICHARD PEVEAR and LARISSA VOLOKHONSKY

BIG BOOKS: CHEKHOV SHORT STORIES

Wednesdays at 7:00 p.m., July 11, 18, and 25

Anton Chekhov's short stories depict everyday life in all its simplicity and complexity. "There are no easy answers to be found in Chekhov's writing," said Michael Enright, in a CBC special, "Chekhov for the 21st Century." "He shows us people as they are, not as we would like them to be. And the world as it is, not as it should be."

Our three-week summer session will allow us to dive into some of Chekhov's best stories.

Leading the discussion will be Barbara Joyce, who has been teaching English at New Trier High School for 15 years. She holds master's degrees in religious studies and in writing, making her acutely impressed with Chekhov's ability to infuse the mundane with meaning.

The Big Books discussion series is sponsored by the Friends of the Glencoe Public Library. Registration is required and space is limited. Glencoe residents will get priority if the class fills up. Registration opens June 1; visit the library's website or call to register.

PHONE PHOTOGRAPHY

Thursday, June 14, at 7:00 p.m.

Get more out of the camera that's always in your pocket! Join reference librarian Justin Franklin for an informative presentation covering camera phone features, techniques, apps, and more.

DRAWING FOR FUN

Monday, June 25, at 6:30 p.m.

Enthusiasm is required but experience is not in this two-hour introductory class for adults. Why not give it a try? The class will be led by Frances Vail, a Northbrook artist and experienced art instructor. The library will provide the supplies needed. Registration opens June 1. Space is limited and Glencoe residents have priority if the class fills up.

"NOT DEAD YET, SO PLAN YOUR ESTATE"

Monday, July 9, at 7:30 p.m.

Northbrook attorney Eric Matlin wrote Not Dead Yet, So Plan Your Estate to educate and entertain people about the importance of estate planning. It's a serious how-to handbook made fun with a colorful graphic novel woven throughout the text. Copies of his book will be available for purchase and signing.

"WHAT'S WITH CHICAGO?" QUIZ NIGHT

Tuesday, July 10, at 7:30 p.m.

What are the quirks that make Chicago unique? In her new book What's with Chicago?, former Glencoe resident Ellen Shubart highlights what makes our city one of a kind. How much do YOU know? Ms. Shubart, a docent for the Chicago Architecture Foundation, will lead a trivia quiz evening about the sites, sounds and people who made Chicago what it is today. Stump her if you can, and have fun learning if you don't! For all ages.

WRITING THE COLLEGE ESSAY, OR HOW TO KEEP AN ADMISSIONS OFFICER AWAKE

Monday, July 23, at 7:30 p.m.

The essay is the only part of a college application that's completely in the student's control. Learn how to make the most of it from returning presenter Hanna Stotland, a college admissions consultant with a national clientele. She will cover getting started, subjects to avoid, and how to stand out from the crowd. Students and parents welcome.

JANE

Monday, June 18, at 1:00 & 7:00 p.m.

Drawing from over 100 hours of never-before-seen footage, award-winning director Brett Morgen tells the story of Jane Goodall, a woman whose chimpanzee research challenged the male-dominated scientific consensus of her time and revolutionized our understanding of the natural world.

90 minutes. PG.

CALIFORNIA TYPEWRITER

Monday, July 16, at 1:00 & 7:00 p.m.

California Typewriter is a documentary portrait of artists, writers, and collectors who remain steadfastly loyal to the typewriter as a tool and muse. Luminaries like Tom Hanks, David McCullough, Sam Shepard and others weigh in, even while California Typewriter movingly documents the struggles of the Berkeley, California, shop that lends the film its name, one of the last such repair shops in America. "Anyone who loves machines, poetry or, better yet, the poetry of machines should see it." — Stephanie Zacharek, Time.

89 minutes. Rated PG.

LAST MEN IN ALEPPO

Monday, August 20, at 1:00 & 7:00 p.m.

Nominated for the Academy Award for Best Documentary Feature and universally acclaimed, Last Men in Aleppo show us examples of inspiration, heroism, and stubborn humanity in the midst of one of the most troubled places on earth. The filmmakers, with considerable courage in their own right, follow the internationally-recognized White Helmets, ordinary citizens who rush toward explosions in the hope of saving lives. Most impressively, Last Men in Aleppo traces the lives of three of the group's founders as they grapple with the chaos about them. Last Men in Aleppo is, simply, "a masterpiece." — Nick Frasier, The Guardian.

103 minutes. Not rated.

JOHN SINGER SARGENT AND CHICAGO'S GILDED AGE

Wednesday, June 27, at 7:00 p.m.

Anticipating the Sargent exhibition that will run at the Art Institute of Chicago from July 1 to September 30, art historian Jeff Mishur returns to discuss the highlights of John Singer Sargent's career as a portraitist, muralist, and plein air painter. Sargent's society portraits, including "Madame X," gave him the financial freedom to paint diverse subjects and to travel in Italy, England, France, and Spain.

Meet the Staff

SUSAN SCHOBER

Hello everybody! I'm Susan, and I'm thrilled to have joined the Children's Department last fall. I grew up as a total book nerd, reading till the wee hours under my covers with a flashlight. Knowing how important they were to me, my mother saved all of my childhood books, and I have delighted in sharing them with my two children. I also grew up as a choral music geek and enjoyed a 25-year career performing classical music, earning a master's degree in education, teaching students of all ages, and working with nonprofit organizations.

After years of recommending books to all the kids, parents, and teachers on the playground, I decided to pursue my dream of working with children and literature. How lucky I was to land at the Glencoe Library! In addition to engaging with our patrons and managing special projects such as our milk jug igloo, I lead storytimes, including our new Inchworms program for lap babies. I adore reading, singing, and playing with so many of the children and adults in our community, almost as much as I love introducing a child to just the right book for them. My bedside table and Hoopla audiobook shelf are currently overflowing with middle grade and junior high fiction, adult science fiction and thrillers, and quirky nonfiction. My life outside the library is full of family, movies, concerts, baking, volunteering, and pajama days.
