New Meeting Room Available This Spring!

Without expanding the structure of our beloved, if somewhat space-challenged building, a new meeting room has been created. Complementing the larger Hammond Room on the library mezzanine, this new lower-level meeting room will accommodate from two to six people. Reservations may be made at the library's Reference Desk. For a complete list of rules for room use, consult the Reference Desk, or the library's website under "About the Library," where room applications can be found and downloaded.

As part of the changes to the lower level, the CDs will be moved to the walls adjacent to the new study room. Moving the music collection from its former home will make room for an expanded Young Adult area on the main floor.

The library is extremely grateful to the Friends of the Glencoe Public Library, who have pledged $15,000 toward construction costs.

The new lower level meeting room – carpeting and furniture to come.

THIS IS YOUR LIFE: FINDING, DEVELOPING, AND WRITING YOUR STORY

Mondays, April 8 – 29, at 7:00 p.m.

Interested in writing memoir — for family, friends, a larger audience, or just yourself? Award-winning writers Sharon and Steve Fiffer will lead four workshops in April to help you get started or to shape and refine a current endeavor. Each of the 90-minute sessions will focus on a different aspect of writing memoir: memory, context, perspective, and style. In-class activities will include writing and workshoping in a safe, supportive environment and critiques with the Fiffers. This is not a how-to-get published workshop, but the Fiffers will share their experiences in the publishing world.

Registration is required; please call the library at (847) 835-5056 to sign up. If the number of registrants exceeds class capacity, priority will be given to Glencoe residents.

Sunday, April 28, at 2:00 p.m.

Fifty years ago, the last train on the North Shore Line rolled through town, leaving only the Northwestern line to serve Glencoe. Train and local history enthusiasts won't want to miss this program on the formation of both lines and how they served Glencoe, with emphasis on the North Shore Line. Maps, timetables, and photographs of the trains will be part of the discussion. Co-sponsored with the Glencoe Historical Society, this program will be presented by interurban train buff and GHS board member Barney Berlin.

RISING FROM THE ASHES: AESTHETIC EXPERIENCE AND CREATIVE TRANSFORMATION

Tuesday, May 7, at 7:30 p.m.

In the face of unbearable conditions, many people still have an astonishing urge to create. Presented by Glencoe resident Barbara Javore, this program will explore human creativity in the shadow of cruelty, including examples of art produced in the Nazi death camps, African-American spirituals, and artistic responses to the Cambodian genocide. Ms. Javore has a Ph.D in religious education from Garrett-Evangelical Theological Seminary and is director of children's and youth ministry at North Shore United Methodist Church.

Technology Tuesdays

Many of you received ereaders and tablets over the holidays. Do you know that the library provides thousands of ebooks and audiobooks that you can download to most mobile devices for free? Come to our Downloadable Ebooks and Audiobooks program and find out how!

Next, Facebook is continually making changes and adding features, often with little fanfare or announcement. If you'd like to stay on top of everything happening with Facebook, be sure to attend our Facebook Update in which we will discuss its new graph search, privacy issues, and more.

Finally, are you trying to find reviews for that new refrigerator? Or maybe you want to know if there are any decent restaurants near a movie theater. You should come to our Find Reviews Online class, where we'll cover review sites from both consumer and professional reviewers.

Technology Tuesdays is open to all ages and skills, although a basic knowledge of computers (how to use a mouse and keyboard, how to get on the Internet) is required. Each class is taught by virtual services librarian Mike Gershbein and will last one hour.

Tuesday, March 19, at 1:00 p.m.

A LATE QUARTET

Monday, March 18, at 1:00 & 7:00 p.m.

As the Fugue Quartet anticipates its 26th season of performance, unexpected news about the health of the group's cellist sends the quartet reeling with uncertainty. Long-contained emotions are unleashed and the group's future is put in jeopardy. An actor's showcase, A Late Quartet features Philip Seymour Hoffman, Catherine Keener, and a stately performance from Christopher Walken. A Late Quartet is "...the very definition of a character-driven drama, the performances humbling in their power." — Amanda Mae Meyncke, Film.com.

105 minutes. Rated R.

THE FLAT

Monday, April 15, at 1:00 & 7:00 p.m.

At age 98, director Arnon Goldfinger's grandmother passed away, leaving him the task of clearing out the Tel Aviv flat that she and her husband shared for decades since immigrating from Nazi Germany in the 1930s. Sifting through a dense mountain of photos, letters, files, and objects, Goldfinger begins to uncover clues that seem to point to a greater mystery and soon a complicated family history unfolds before his camera. The Flat is "a spellbinding documentary about family secrets." — Roger Ebert, Chicago Sun-Times.

97 minutes. Not rated.

GERHARD RICHTER PAINTING

Monday, May 20, at 1:00 & 7:00 p.m.

An abstract painting by German artist Gerhard Richter recently sold for $34.2 million, a record for a living artist. Gerhard Richter Painting, the 2012 documentary by Corinna Belz, offers both an introduction to its subject as well as that rarest of experiences: an opportunity to watch an artist creating works before your eyes. "Gerhard Richter Painting is a stirring portrait of an artist in search of his art — the mystery of the process, the beauty of the hunt and the wonder of discovery." — Tom Long, Detroit News.

97 minutes. Not rated.

Just for Young Adults

WATCH THIS SPACE — THE YOUNG ADULT COLLECTION IS GROWING

As you read this, we are getting close to moving the music CDs to their new home on the lower level. This will make room for more books and other resources for Young Adults. This spring, YA books will be moved to the east side of the room, doubling the shelf space and taking better advantage of the window seat on that wall. When you visit, you'll find more new books and more old favorites that were in storage for lack of shelf space. There will be more open space and different seating areas. We hope you'll find the new arrangements more comfortable and welcoming.

Library Staff News

MEET GAIL JURIS

What a treat to work in Adult Services at a library as community-focused as the Glencoe Public Library. I always wanted to be a librarian, helping people with their needs and interests. Increasingly, there is more to find and new ways to access and evaluate. The library and staff provide resources, both in the building and online. Always new things to discover and new ways to help.

I have been fortunate to work in variety of wonderful libraries. Most recently, I was Reference Manager at the Highland Park Public Library for 12 years. (Yes, that is why I look familiar to some of you.) Specializing in reference and bibliography, I worked at university libraries: St. Louis University, the University of Toronto's St. Michael's College, and, locally, at Northwestern University Library. Because it combined the delights of public library service with a special collection, I enjoyed managing Baltimore's George Peabody Collection. Public libraries, with the variety of users and interests, are my favorite. In Ontario, I managed branches at Toronto Public Library and, for more than 15 years, Windsor Public Library.

Among my personal pleasures are appreciating literature, art, music, and nature and taking action for social and political causes with (in no particular order) my dog, my husband, my daughter (also a librarian), and friends. It is good to be meeting more of you through Excerpts and I hope to meet you in person next time you are in the library.
